Dear parents and carers,

As you will know there is a Red Weather Warning for Wales due to exceptionally high temperatures,

We are carefully monitoring the situation in school. We have made adjustments in school following our risk assessment, we have reduced significantly the amount of time the children are out in the yard at both breaktimes and lunchtimes, however this will be monitored closely as we have no adequate shaded areas in the school yards, so if we feel it is too hot for them to safely go out to play, we will have break and lunch play indoors.

The children are encouraged to keep hydrated and have regular water breaks throughout the day and we have asked if children can wear loose cool clothing. School lunches tomorrow and Thursday will be a cold option as the heat from the ovens in the kitchen is making the working environment very uncomfortable.

Despite our best efforts some of the children are struggling to manage the heat and are struggling to concentrate and engage with their learning, so we are adapting the tasks in school to meet their needs.

As this weather is unprecedented, we will monitor the effects of this heat throughout the day on the children and the staff and as it stands, we have no plans at the moment to close or partially close our school, however please be prepared this may change if we feel that there is an unacceptable level of risk to the children and the staff.

Yours sincerely,
Mrs Alison Evans
Head Teacher
